MALTEPE UNIVERSITY
CRITERIA TO PASS THE TURKISH PREPARATORY COURSE

The Turkish Proficiency Exam:

The students, who will study in Turkish departments, must pass a Turkish Proficiency Exam held by the Department of Turkish Language.

According to this;

Level A: The Turkish level of the student is sufficient; he/she can start studying.
Level B: Turkish level of the student can be improved in a short time. The student can take courses; but he/she should take Turkish courses.
Level C: The Turkish level of the student is insufficient. The student is allowed 1 year by the faculty to develop their Turkish language skills. The student is then obliged to take the Turkish Proficiency Exam administered by the Turkish Language Department. If he/she becomes successful in this exam, the right to admission to the undergraduate program will be granted.
