FIRAT UNIVERSITY
CRITERIA TO PASS THE ENGLISH PREPARATORY COURSE

English Proficiency Exam:

The foreign language proficiency of the students, who are newly enrolled in the undergraduate programs in which a compulsory foreign language preparatory program is applied, is determined by the Foreign Language Proficiency Exam held at the beginning of the academic year. The achievement grade for the compulsory preparatory program is at least 60 out of 100.

Those exempted from the preparatory program;

a) The candidates who are successful in the Foreign Language Preparatory Program of a higher education institution (university) within the last 3 years,

b) At least in the last three years, in a country where the foreign language defined as the language of instruction is spoken as a native language, the candidates who were educated and completed their education in the secondary education institutions that the citizens of that country attend,

c) The students who get at least 70 points from the Foreign Language Exam conducted by the Student Selection and Placement Centre (ÖSYM).

The students, who do not meet the proficiency exam requirements, are admitted to the compulsory foreign language preparatory program.

Arabic Preparatory Course:

To the candidates who won a program in which language of instruction is Arabic, a one-year compulsory Arabic Preparatory Program is offered. The preparatory class is not included in the years shown in the teaching time column. The students, who pass the Arabic Proficiency Exam, are directly taken to the first year.